Seeing Stars

Dancing the Night Away in Mattapoisett

By Robert Chiarito

Strobe lights flashed and a mirror ball reflected sparkling beams of white light around the room as the pulsating beat of disco music pounded a steady rhythm for the dancers crowding the dance floor. Was this the scene at the hottest new retro-club or was it a 1970's discotheque? This was actually the setting on Friday night, March 23, at the Mattapoisett Congregational Church's Reynard Hall as members of the church held a family-oriented "Dancing With the Stars" night.

DJ Don Hunt of City Lights Disc Jockey Service kept the dance floor full by spinning a mix of favorites from '70s disco and '80s dance pop, to more current radio favorites and hip hop songs. Most of the dancers on this night seemed to be about twelve years of age or younger but that did not stop them from requesting party favorites that were being played when their parents were children. A group of young girls screamed with approval as DJ

Hunt announced, "This one was requested by a group of young ladies who said they wanted to hear, 'Celebration' by Kool and the Gang!" This was an evening where everyone could be young at heart as dancers from ages seven to seventy kicked off their shoes and busted a move.

Mr. Hunt proved to be a great Master of Ceremonies in addition to his DJ duties as he took the dance floor himself with a microphone in his hand to lead the dancers through "The Electric Slide." The party goers were then joined by dance instructor Heidi Parker Catelli and members of her dance school. The instructor and her young dancers — who were dressed in matching tie-died t-shirts — treated everyone to an exhibition of the latest moves. Ms. Catelli then invited the crowd to gather on the floor and take part in a hip-hop dance lesson to the tune of Justin Timberlake's song "Sexyback." After a few quick passes, each person who joined in the activity was dancing like a seasoned club kid.

As the song came to an end a very special announcement was made:

"We would like to welcome everyone who came out to tonight's Dancing With The Stars. It is now time to introduce you to our stars — The Cat in the Hat and Shrek!" Once again room erupted with the squeal of happy children as they followed the two celebrities around the hall. The two stars then joined in more dance lessons and took the time to dance with both children and adults alike. A photo booth was set up at the rear of the hall where Shrek and the Cat posed for pictures with their happy fans.

The stars continued to lead the dancing until the end of the night. What began as a evening of nightclubbing ended more like what the event actually was — a night of family fun with tired little girls falling asleep on the mother and father's shoulders as they were being carried to the car.

School Committee voted, 7-0, to approve a tentative $14.115 million General Maintenance and Operating Budget for 2007-2008 at ORR Junior and Senior High Schools at a meeting held on Tuesday, March 20. Of the total $12.878 to be assessed to the three member towns, Marion's share would be $4.115 million; Mattapoissett's would be $5.198 million; and Rochester would carry $3.564 million.

This initial budget proposal, however, wasn't made without some sacrifice as a Foreign Language Teacher at the high school and a Consumer Science Teacher at the junior high were cut from the curriculum. In addition, proposed cuts were made to instrumental music lessons at ORR Junior High, while the high school would see cuts in a Special Education Assistant, a Title I Math Assistant, and a custodian position. Computer Lab and Library Assistant positions at ORR High School may also be reduced from full- to part-time to save an estimated $220,000 shortfall.

Of all the proposed cuts and reductions, the one bone of contention remained the elimination of the Foreign Language Teacher, which many deemed an essential part of the school's academic curriculum. As such, the ORR School Committee moved to seek the needed $55,000 for the position by making an additional request to the Finance Committees in Marion, Mattapoissett and Rochester.

Although the overall $14.115 million FY2008 budget represents a 5.62 percent hike over the previous year,

Catapult to College
Rochester Student Earns Scholarship
By Kenneth J. Souza

Jeff Costa, a Rochester resident and senior at Old Rochester Regional High School in Mattapoisett, recently won a $15,000 a year scholarship to study civil engineering at Merrimack College in North Andover, MA. How did he do it? Jeff's homemade egg catapult had a top-notch performance and beat out four other entrants at a competition on the Merrimack campus during the first annual ThinkFEST recently.

The award was based on the most accurate egg toss — 48 feet away! — aesthetics judging, and a presentation by the student. Mr. Costa, the son of Michael and Roxanne Costa of Rochester, will be attending Merrimack College this fall.

When asked about his unique opportunity to earn a scholarship, Mr. Costa said he received a notice in the mail about the event.

"They said they were going to be hosting an egg catapult contest ... they said you had to make a catapult which launched an egg between 30 and 60 feet, but they wouldn't tell you exactly how far until you got there," he said. "It had to be a trebuchet catapult, which means it has a counterweight with a sling."

After doing some initial research into catapult designs online, Mr. Costa made a small prototype of the device to see how it would come out. Once satisfied with this version, he spent the next two weeks on and off building the full-size catapult. "It couldn't be any bigger than 3 feet by 3 feet by 8 feet tall," he said. "It weighs about 120 to 140 pounds. I just brought it up in my truck."

In addition to designing and building the catapult, Mr. Costa also had to make a presentation on how he came up with the design as part of the competition. This is the first year the college has hosted this type of scholarship challenge and Mr. Costa said he's proud to be the first recipient.

Merrimack College was Jeff's first choice of the five colleges to which he was accepted. In addition to this scholarship, Jeff had previously received a $10,000 per year merit scholarship to Merrimack. An active member of the Rochester Scholarship Committee, Jeff has spear-

Music Fiesta

Tri-County Band Celebrates World Music By Robert Chiarito

The Tri-County Symphonic Band treated South-Coast music lovers to a world tour of musical styles and sounds as they presented their "La Fiesta" concert program at Tabor Academy's Fireman Performing Arts Center at Hoyt Hall on Sunday, March 25. With spring in the air the performance was, as the concert's program suggested, "a celebration of celebrations," as the band played a variety of marches, masses and fanfares influenced by music from around the globe.

The program began with a very stately performance of Alfred Reed's fanfare "A Festival Prelude" and was quickly followed Roger Nixon's lively piece, "Fiesta Del Pacifico." Nixon's music borrowed heavily from the Latin influences of his California roots mixing the flavor of a Mexican street festival with the bold refrains of classic mid-twentieth century American brass. The two pieces set the tone for what proved to be an afternoon of music that pulsed with energy.

The first half of the concert continued in this vein as the Tri-County Symphonic Band performed H. Owen Reed's call to mass, "Mass from La Fiesta Mexicana," which begins with the chiming of church bells calling the faithful to service and slowly builds to a huge swell of sound that recalls Antonín Dvořák's Symphony Number 9 in E Minor – From the New World. Trumpeters Mario Borges, J. Philip Hague and John Simialek were asked to come to the front of the stage for Leroy Anderson's "Bugler's Holiday," which continued the concert's fiesta theme with a Mexican-tinged romp that showcased the talent of these fine musicians. The concert's first half concluded with a trip back in time to the days of the Grange Hall and the State Fair with Karl L. King's "Hawkeye Fair March." The piece was a tribute to the midway and brought to mind carnival rides and the Four-H tent's livestock show.

The second half of this Musical World tour was highlighted by Marion's own Leslie Neighbor Stroud as the program's featured instrumentalist. Band director Philip Sanborn introduced Ms. Stroud by saying, "Leslie Stroud is a World Class Flutist and one of the most musical people that I have ever known." Ms. Stroud lived up to her billing as she played at the fore of a scaled down, eight-piece version of the Tri-County Band that Mr. Sanborn jokingly called, "The Tri-County Band Light." Music seemed to pour from Ms. Stroud as she displayed her musical dexterity taking the audience on a trip to the "Carnival of Venice," composed by Giulio Briccialdi.

The set continued with Arnold Freed's "Creole Carnival" and Anonio Carlos Jobim's "Girl From Ip-anema"-themed "Brazilian Festival." Each piece was the musical equivalent to a day in the tropics with calypso rhythms and bossa nova melodies.

Before the final piece of the afternoon, Mr. Sanborn drew a card from the raffle box as the day's door prize, a gift basket donated by Cindy and Geoff Worrell of Sallie Mae Home Loans, was awarded to one lucky winner. The concert concluded with a choice that went against the musical grain, namely, Hector Berlioz's "Roman Carnival Overture." Mr. Sanborn stated, "I know that it is odd to end a performance with an overture, but when you hear this music you will understand that no other piece of music could end this program." The piece was indeed a fitting conclusion with its uptempo time signature creating the perfect finale for a day an afternoon

Potluck Parish

Rochester Church Gathers Food and Friends

By Robert Chiarito

The Rochester Congregational Church held what proved to be much more than your average church dinner on Saturday night, March 24 at the church's Fellowship Hall. As diners entered the hall they were greeted not by a table awaiting potluck covered dishes with plastic forks and paper plates but, instead, by tables draped in white table clothes with flowered centerpieces and a sunset view that set the mood for a perfect evening filled with food and friends.

The evening was more of a fine dining experience than a church picnic as organizers and church members pulled out all of the stops to treat their guests to a delightful night of good food and family fun. The hall had the air of a grand banquet hall with each table and place setting decorated to perfection. As each guest was seated they were welcomed by a beautiful table setting, which included a colorful placemat and a full service of silverware.

Before dinner was served people spent time catching up with one another while sipping on soft drinks. When the main course was served what had been modestly billed as a ham and bean supper was in truth, a feast of delicious French meat pies, ham and other entrees as well as breads, salads and other sumptuous treats. The evening's meal would be not complete until each person attending the dinner had been given the chance to have seconds, and in a few cases, thirds.

Dessert was equally satisfying as the buffet table was filled with row after row of cakes, pies, whipped cream and fruit. This was not a night where one had to be shy. There was plenty of food for everyone. By the end of the night, after more than a few belts were loosened, goodbyes were offered as the members of the Congregation looked forward to the next day's church services. With the bounty that they had been offered on this evening, it is certain that there would plenty to be thankful for during the Sunday prayer service.

Mattapoisett Selectmen's Meeting

March 27, 2007

By Kenneth J. Souza

A regular meeting of the Mattapoisett Board of Selectmen was called to order on Tuesday, March 27 at 7:00 pm by Chairman Jordan C. Collyer. Also present were Selectman Raymond H. Andrews, and Town Administrator Michael J. Botelho.

There being no minutes to approve, the board unanimously voted to approve an easement for the Mattapoisett Public Library on property that connects Barstow Street with the Kinsale Inn parking lot.

"This will enable us to create off-street parking spots ... to move ahead with the Veterans Memorial Park site at the Mattapoisett Public Library," Selectman Andrews said. "It will not only allow more parking space, but more green space (in front of the library)."

At 7:05 pm the board met with Harbormaster Steve Mach and Steve Vaitses for an update on the new Mattapoisett Community Sailing Program.

"As means of an update, (Mr. Mach) came before the board last year to start up a Youth Community Sailing Program to be named after William Mee," Mr. Botelho said. "Since that time, they've formed a non-profit organization and have accomplished a lot."

"On April 7 we have a fundraiser planned at the Reservation Golf Club," Mr. Mach said. "The community has really stepped up to the plate, all the local restaurants are donating food and items to raffle. We're looking at some really high quality instructors (for the sailing program). We'll have a pilot program this summer, somewhere between 35 and 50 kids. It's a small program, but at least we'll have kids on the water. We're taking baby steps right now."

"We received the donation of a 13-foot Boston whaler to the Town of Mattapoisett to be used as the safety boat (for the Mattapoisett Community Sailing Program)," Mr. Botelho said.

The board unanimously voted to accept the dona-

"I just can't say enough good things about the people who have been laboring over the birth of this organization," Mr. Botelho said.

"We're hoping to have a high school program at some point," Mr. Mach added.

At 7:15 pm the board met again with Harbormaster Steve Mach to review the final versions of the updated Marine Advisory Board's (MAB) Waterfront Management Plan and the Wharf, Mooring and Anchorage Rules and Regulations. Mr. Mach noted that both documents have been reviewed by Town Counsel and they didn't raise and "red flags." Town Clerk Barbara Sullivan also noted they hadn't received any further comments from the public. As such, the board unanimously voted to approve the newly-revised Waterfront Management Plan and Wharf, Moring and Anchorage Rules and Regulations as submitted.

Chairman Collyer next asked about the installation of a float at the town's bathing beach. Mr. Mach reported work has begun this past week on the existing metal float which will be installed upon completion. Mr. Mach was hoping to get another season or two out of the existing float in order to save on the expense of having a new one built.

The board noted the next regular Selectmen's meeting will be held on Tuesday, April 10 at 7:00 pm in the Mattapoisett Town Hall Conference Room.

Under the Town Administrator's report, Mr. Botelho said he received a fee cost from the Maguire Group for the design of the new Fire Station project. That quote is $40,000, which would be taken out of the funds previously approved by Town Meeting.

Mr. Botelho then reviewed the proposed expenditure of their available Free Cash going into the Annual Town Meeting. With some $843,004.38 in available Free Cash, Mr. Botelho noted they hope to put almost 44 percent of that amount — or $370,000 — back into various reserve accounts (the Stabilization Fund, the Capital Reserve account, and the Reserve Fund).

Another $267,904.38, or 24.33 percent, has been earmarked for previously requested Capital Equipment

FOOD RECALL

Please explain the recent pet food recall.

Special equipment is needed to manufacture "Cuts and Gravy" dog and cat food, so this process has been farmed out to a specific company by Eukanuba, Iams, Science Diet, Wal Mart (Old Roy), Nutro, Nutromax and Stop and Shop, to name only a few of the more commonly used brands in this area. ONLY CANNED AND POUCH FOODS ARE AFFECTED, not dry food. Codes on the can or package of affected food read 6339-7073 (date code) followed by 4197 (affected manufacturing plant code). Questions can be directed to Proctor and Gamble at 800-882-1591.

If you pet has eaten one of the foods and has a change in attitude (lethargic) or has a change in their drinking habits or appetite, see your veterinarian immediately to have the kidney function checked. Cats seem to more sensitive to the unknown toxin than dogs, although both can be affected.

"There's a fair amount of money in Free Cash, the problem is disbursing it," Chairman Collyer said.

"I think (Mr. Botelho) has done a good job at paring this down and I think we'll have a good budget to submit to the Finance Committee (FinCom) and for Town Meeting approval," Selectman Andrews said.

In other matters, Chairman Collyer said there is a significant amount of surplus town equipment which needs to be disposed of, and he'd like to hold a closed-bid auction to get rid of these items. "If we could just have the department heads generate a list, then we can declare these items surplus and schedule an auction," he said.

There being no further matters to come before the board, they unanimously voted to adjourn for the evening at 7:46 pm.

Rochester Selectmen's Meeting

March 26, 2007

By Kenneth J. Souza

A regular meeting of the Rochester Board of Selectmen was called to order on Monday, March 26 at 6:54 pm by Chairman Bradford Morse. Also present were Selectman Richard Nunes, Selectman Dan A. McGaffey, Town Administrator Richard LaCamera, and Administrative Assistant Veronica Lafreniere.

The board first approved the minutes of February 26 and March 19 meetings, both Regular and Executive Sessions.

At 7:00 pm the board opened a Non-Compliance Liquor Hearing for Adrian's Package Store, which was alleged to have served alcohol to a minor without checking for identification for a second offense.

"On February 18, 2007, I conducted alcohol compliance checks in all of the establishments holding a liquor license in the Town of Rochester," said Police Chief Paul Magee. "The underage buyer went into (Adrian's Package Store) by herself and was sold a six-pack of Sam Adams beer ... and was not asked for identification."

According to Brett Sherman, owner of Adrian's Package Store, he was present on that day, but he was not working behind the counter. A new employee was at the cash register when the alleged violation took place.

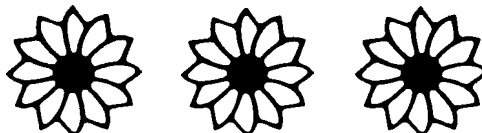

"We had just changed shifts and apparently that was my newest employee and she hasn't worked with us very long," Mr. Sherman said. "There was a violation, which I understand. I have spoken to her and we hope there will be no other violations. I've directed her to be much more vigilant."

ATTENTION DRIVERS

If you are involved in a collision you have the right to have your investment, your vehicle, repaired at a shop of your choice. Your insurance company may suggest a list of repair shops. Do not be persuaded by this list, it is not a guarantee of quality of services, nor does it limit your options. You want a shop who will work for you and with you to put your vehicle back to pre-accident condition. COLLISION SERVICES OF MARION, INC. is a licensed, bonded, registered repair shop with the state of Massachusetts. We work with all insurance companies to expedite your repairs. The important thing to remember is we repair the vehicle for you, our customers, not the insurance companies. So remember, if the need arises, contact COLLISION SERVICES OF MARION, INC. to get back on the road.

In keeping with past practice, Selectman Nunes moved to suspend Adrian's Package Store's liquor license for three days, beginning with the day after the violation occurred. As such, that would mean a Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday suspension period. The board suggested April 30, May 1 and May 2 to be the days of suspension. The establishment cannot sell any alcohol during this period and must clearly post this is due to non-compliance. Mr. Sherman has the interim 30-day period to file an appeal of this decision with the Alcohol Beverage Control Commission (ABCC).

According to Chief Magee, if a third violation occurs the establishment would be subject to a 10-day suspension of its liquor license.

"You understand we consider this a very serious issue, not just for you but in terms of all the places that sell liquor in town," Selectman McGaffey said.

Under the Town Administrator's report, Mr. LaCamera noted the position of Building Commissioner/Zoning Enforcement Officer has been posted and advertised. "All resumes will be accepted until April 30," he said, "then we'll discuss how to do the preliminary review and final interviews."

Mr. LaCamera was also pleased to announce that the Fiscal Year 2007-2008 budget is just about balanced and ready for Town Meeting approval.

"As far as the budget update is concerned, we are very close to being balanced, within a couple of hundred dollars," Mr. LaCamera said. "By next week, we should have a budget that we can go to Town Meeting with. I'm also happy that we won't have to make any cuts."

At 7:15 pm the board opened a Public Hearing on a request from Carleo Realty Trust to install a 1,000-gallon above-ground diesel tank at property located at 409 New Bedford Road.

"Basically we're looking to install a 1,000-gallon double-walled tank," said Carlos Pinhancos of Carleo Realty Trust. "This is strictly road fuel for the trucks. We're actually going to keep the tank indoors in the old stable, attached to the building. We've gone over the requirements with the Fire Chief and just need the approval of the board."

With that, the board unanimously voted to grant permission to Carleo Realty Trust to install the tank as requested.

Under Old Business, Selectman Nunes read a statement regarding the Town Treasurer's position and the upcoming vote on the Annual Town Election ballot on April 11 to change the position from elected to appointed.

"On Wednesday, April 11, the Rochester Board of Selectmen are looking for voter support to change the Treasurer's position from elected to appointed," Selectman Nunes read. "The Treasurer's position is critical to the town's bond rating; receipt of state funding; and payment of town expenses, such as wages, taxes, benefit payments, and the payments to vendors.

"At this time, the Board of Selectmen is proposing to hire a person who knows accounting and municipal finance on a part-time basis. The person would either be semi-retired or retired. The person would be responsible in bringing the Treasurer's office into state compliance.

"As many of you know, the Treasurer's office has many issues that need to be corrected. The Board of Selectmen is responsible to ensure that Town Hall offices function efficiently. The time has come for Rochester to have a Treasurer with specialized experience in accounting and municipal finance. The Board of Selectmen, the Finance Committee, and the Massachusetts Department of Revenue all recommend this change. Please support this proposal and vote on April 11."

At 7:20 pm the board met with Conservation Agent Laurell J. Farinon for the Annual Phase 2 Storm Water Meeting update. This was essentially a routine meeting to let the Selectmen know what's been going on with stormwater management.

"One of the things we are looking into is updating the town's stormwater regulations," Ms. Farinon said. "We're going to be reexamining that with the Town Engineer in the next six months."

Ms. Farinon also noted the Conservation Commission (ConCom) is currently seeking people to serve as Associate Members. "We'd like to have a couple of people who are in the learning stages and be ready to step up if needed," she said. Those interested should submit a letter of interest to the Conservation Commission, c/o Rochester Town Hall, 1 Constitution Way, Rochester, MA 02770.

Mr. LaCamera spent the remainder of the meeting reviewing the ongoing financial problems which have plagued the town during his four-month tenure as Town Administrator and his recommendations for fixing them.

As per an initial study conducted by the Massachusetts Department of Revenue (DOR), the town has since hired a new Town Accountant, along with an Assistant Town Treasurer. They've also upgraded their budget process and have prepared a formal five-year Capital Improvement Plan, along with making better revenue projections for the upcoming budget cycle.

"We were also asked to update the General

Ledger through 2006 ... as you know, the books have not been updated," Mr. LaCamera said. "We're now updated through the end of December 2006, so we're now only a few months behind."

But the town's Schedule A report to the DOR was not submitted on time this year — it was due October 31 — and the town's General Ledger continues to be updated manually and has not been automated. Mr. LaCamera said he is working to upgrade the General Ledger process to a computer-based software application that will be tested in May and June and "go live" with the beginning of the next fiscal year in July.

Although the majority of departments within Town Hall seem committed to rectifying these problems,

Mr. LaCamera noted there seems to be a lack of communication with the offices of the Town Clerk and Town Treasurer — both of which are held by Naida Parker.

"We have been having regular meetings with all financial departments and everyone has been attending with the exception of the Town Clerk and Town Treasurer, which is disappointing since we're all trying to work together," Mr. LaCamera said.

Both Mr. LaCamera and Selectman Nunes also expressed concern that Ms. Parker has hired two outside consultants — at a cost of $6,000 — to assist with reconciling the General Ledger books, but this process is being done offsite, requiring that sensitive documents be removed from Town Hall.

"Are there any problems with confidentiality issues?" Selectman Nunes asked.

"There could be ... these documents contain personal and account information," Mr. LaCamera said. "It's my opinion these documents should not be taken out of Town Hall."

"This is nonproductive for everyone — myself, the Treasurer's office and the Accounting office," Mr. LaCamera said. "They're getting frustrated and everyone is redoing work that should have been completed. We're now nine months into the fiscal year."

"Most people are onboard except for one person," agreed Tax Collector Tom Gayoski.

"I have two recommendations," Mr. LaCamera said. "Everyone's working to try and get the financial accounting right. And the frustration level (in Town Hall) is high. I hate to recommend this, because this was actually done in 2005, but I think we need to engage our auditing firm to reconcile the bank statements with our General Ledger. This could cost up to $10,000. But we need to fix this problem and get it all behind us."

The board said they'd like an actual cost estimate before they approved this measure.

Mr. LaCamera also suggested having the Department of Revenue return and look at what the Town Treasurer's office has accomplished over the past few months and offer an updated evaluation.

With that, the board unanimously voted to Old Rochester Regional High School Hockey Team Captain Timmy Mathews was named the South Coast's High School Hockey Player of the Year by The Standard-Times. The Senior Captain led the Bulldogs to a 14-1-5 regular season record and into the quarter final round of the State Tournament. Mathews was the team's leader in points and the area's third leading scorer with 28 goals and 31 assists for a 59-point regular season. Other ORR Hockey players receiving post-season honors included Senior Defenseman Derek Clarke, who was named to the South Coast's prep Hockey All-Star First Team. Senior Goal Tender Brandon Correia, Senior Defenseman Conor Brown and Sophomore Forward Brennan Goguen were all named to the Second Team. Congratulations to all of these players and to the entire ORR Hockey team on a fine season.

The regular season opens for the ORR Varsity

Tennis Teams on Friday, March 30 as both the Girls and Boys teams compete against Dartmouth High School. The Lady Bulldogs will serve it up against the Indians at home starting at 3:30 while the Boys Team will travel to Dartmouth and will also begin their season with a 3:30 starting time. The Boys will have their home opener the next day as they will face Dartmouth for the second half of a home and home series, beginning, again, at 3:30. The Boys Tennis Team's busy opening schedule continues, as they will have played three more matches by the end of their first week. The Boys will play at Bishop Stang High School on Monday, April 2, at home against Case High School on Tuesday, April 3 and at home, again, versus Bourne High School on Thursday, April 5. The Girls Tennis Team will also see action three times this coming week with matches at home against Bishop Stang on Monday and two road matches at Case on Tuesday and at Bourne on Thursday. All matches begin at 3:30.

The Boys Baseball Team will also have a busy week playing three times in four days. The Old Rochester nine will open the 2007 season on the road at Dartmouth High School on Monday, April 2. They play their home opener on Wednesday, April 4 against Bishop Stang and will go on the road to play Greater New Bedford Regional Vocational Technical High School on Thursday, April 5. All of this week's games are scheduled to begin at 3:30.

The Lady Bulldogs Softball Team will also begin their 2007 season with three games in four days.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I am writing in order to express my complete exasperation with the Town of Marion and the recent decision on the part of the Selectmen to force a Water Bill increase of 70 percent onto their constituents.

The costs of maintaining and improving Town Services is supposed to be included in the operating budget of a town, not converted into a "user fee." But if we are, as a town, actually willing to start down this very slippery slope; then I would suggest a few other "fees" that could be applied as required:

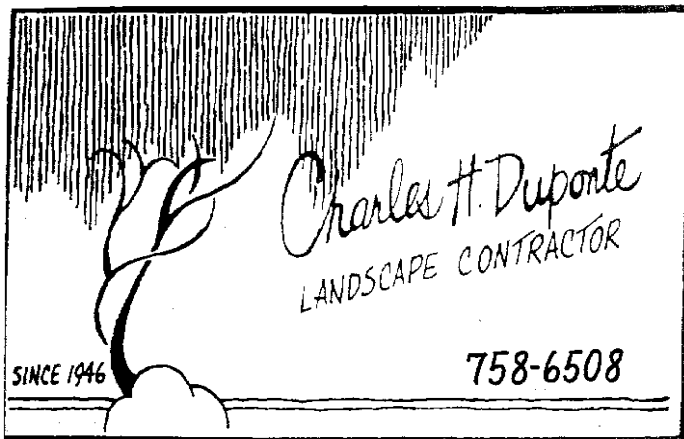

- Unplanned snow plow service after unexpected spring snow storms. If the snow clearing budget is depleted, we can ask home owners on each street to pay a portion of the diesel burned that day to clear the street.

- Education is the largest single cost in our town budget. According to the town report, the cost for a child at Sippican is about $11,000/year. Not a bad deal for the average home owner, personally, I have two children in the school and my tax bill is a long way short of $22,000/year. Perhaps we should assign a "fee" for the difference between my tax bill and the actual school costs?

- The local private school loads Sippican with anywhere from 20-38 children each year. Maybe they should be charged a "fee" of $418,00/year (for the difference between their tax bill and the cost of the kids at Sippican).

As you can see, the slope is extremely slippery!

The Town has an obligation to maintain it's services and pay its bills. It also has an obligation to work with in some kind of financial budget, but the water service increases we have been asked to swallow feels more like a clever bypass of this process. What will happen to our water bill after the improvements have been paid for? Will we see a 70 percent decrease?

I think not.

familiarity with state and federal policies and practices. Good performance in this job ensures that our town's resources are guarded wisely and in compliance with the law. Marion has a well-deserved reputation for solid town government; this position is a key part of that sound management structure.

Any qualified Marion residents, as well as those with experience from other towns, should be interviewed in a competitive, open process. The focus should be on the candidate's demonstrated qualifications: accounting background, graduate-level courses in finance and public policy, familiarity with state and federal laws, computer training, and solid job experience. We should not limit our choices for this position to those who happen to live in town and are willing to campaign for office every three years.

Rochester's recent experience with their elected Treasurer/Collector demonstrates that good intention and devotion to one's town are not sufficient to ensure the sound health of the town finances.

There is some concern that we need a person who is answerable to the voters. We believe that the demands of the job are important enough that we cannot wait for a reaction every three years if performance becomes an issue. The treasurer/collector should be accountable to the public through the proxy of the Board of Selectmen on an ongoing basis. The skills required and the technical complexities of the job have increased to the point where almost all but 10 out of the 351 towns and cities of the Commonwealth have made the change to appoint their Treasurer/Collectors.

We support the decision of the October 30 Town Meeting to make the Treasurer/Collector an appointed position and urge you to vote for this change at the townwide election in

To the Editor:

On April 2 at 7:30 pm in the Marion Town House, the Marion Planning Board will hold a public hearing on an application to have a Subway sandwich shop "fast food license" in the new commercial building at the corner of Route 6 and Point Road.

This comes as we are still faced with a Dunkin' Donuts franchise on Route 6 at the old L'Auberge site.

There is a good website that states the reasons why national chains like the above are detrimental to small towns like Marion: www.newrules.org.

Please go to the website, put in "formula business" into the search box, and you can see for yourselves what other towns have done to ban these chains, why they are bad for small towns, and what we can do to stop them.

Please e-mail the Marion Planning Board and state your objections to chains, or "formula businesses." Ask the board to immediately propose a "formula business ban" by-law. To oppose the specific proposals before the Planning Board at the moment, you can email the board at: planning_bd@townof-marion.org, and state that the proposal is not in compliance with the character of the Town, or its neighborhoods, as stated in

I am haunted by the nightmare of a big sign on Route 195 saying what fast food chains are in Marion, and the mobs of traffic that will ensue, down the already-narrow Front Street.

To the Editor:

Your article on the minutes of the Marion Selectmen's March 6 meeting contained incorrect information that we wish to bring to the attention of your readers. The article included a discussion about a grant the Town of Marion received to develop designs to treat a stormwater discharge near Old Landing. Because the Buzzards Bay National Estuary Program awarded the grant to the town, we wish to set the record straight.

The Wanderer reported that a Selectman stated the town did not apply for the grant. This is incorrect; all three Marion Selectmen signed the grant application the Buzzards Bay National Estuary Program received. In the Town of Marion application cover letter dated December 15, 2006, the Selectmen wrote: "Our proposal is for a stormwater remediation design project (to treat a stormwater discharge) at a location in the northern end of Sippican Harbor at Old Landing." In their letter, the Selectmen acknowledged that the shellfish beds in this area are routinely closed due to bacterial contamination.

The article goes on to note that the VFW is concerned that a stormwater treatment system, similar to the Island Wharf biofilters, would disturb the VFW memorial on town property. Residents should be assured that the Buzzards Bay National Estuary Program does not require any specific solution to treat stormwater through our grant program. We work with towns to develop various conceptual design solutions. Once town officials and affected abutters agree to a conceptual design, an engineering firm is hired to develop the final plans. We then work with the town to obtain state and federal grants to construct the stormwater treatment systems. If town officials find that none of the conceptual designs are acceptable, the project is abandoned.

The article also noted a resident's concerns about the stormwater biofilter system at Island Wharf. The town proposed this project, and our program and another state grant provided most of the construction costs. While the construction of the biofilter of the site was completed two years ago, the plantings have had only one growing season. More than a decade earlier, the Buzzards Bay National Estuary Program helped fund and design the wetland treatment system the Town of Marion constructed behind Silvershell Beach at Spragues Cove. In the first few years after construction, the site was criticized before the vegetation had fully grown in. We understand that today most residents appreciate the diverse wetland habitat behind the beach, which formerly was a dirt and gravel overflow parking area. We believe the Island Wharf site will similarly improve its appearance in time, and it can also be beautified with additional plantings.

The Buzzards Bay National Estuary Program has a long history of providing grants and technical assistance to the Town of Marion. In past years we provided grants to meet the Town's requests for open space protection, Board of Health and Conservation Commission staff, computers and software, and stormwater treatment projects. Stormwater projects like Spragues Cove and Island Wharf have garnered a lot of attention throughout New England as models for stormwater treatment. We look forward to working with the town to identify a strategy to treat stormwater discharges near Old Landing that will produce pollution discharges to shellfish beds, while at the same time preserving the aesthetic values of the site.

Sincerely,

Dr. Joe Costa, Executive Director

Upcoming Health Seminars at Marion Family Chiropractic

Good Fats/Bad Fats and the Whole Story

About Statin Drugs: On Thursday, April 19 at 7:30PM, Dr. Crabbe and Bob Lawrence will present the latest research on what fats you want in your diet, and which to avoid. By making smart decisions about what you eat, what you avoid, and which supplements to take, we can choose to live healthier, more active lives. Dr. Crabbe will also discuss the effects of statin drugs on body chemistry and function, and what alternatives exist to keep a person's heart and body healthy.

You are What You Eat in the New Millennium:

On Thursday, April 5 at 7:30PM, Dr. Eames will discuss four factors to healthy eating, and easy, practical ways to be healthier about our food choices. Those four areas include 1) Eating "anti-inflammatory" foods, 2) eliminating toxins from our diet, 3) understanding calorie density and today's portion sizes, and 4) of course, enjoying what we eat. Healthy eating doesn't need to be difficult or boring – in this seminar you'll learn the tricks to healthier eating for you and your family.

The seminars are free, but space is limited. Call Marion Family Chiropractic at (508) 748-6632 to reserve your ticket. Tell us how many tickets you would like reserved – feel free to bring family members or friends.

then wear their favorite Red Sox gear to work or school on opening day. Plus, the top fundraising business and school team each wins a visit from Youkilis.

"Everyone can't be at Fenway Park on April 10," said Youkilis, Honorary Chairman of Rally Against Cancer, "so this is a great way for fans to show their support while rallying around my two favorite home town teams, the Red Sox and the Jimmy Fund. Plus, you'll be supporting important cancer research and care at the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute, just down the street from Fenway."

Dana-Farber in Boston is a world-renowned pioneer in discovering and developing innovative, effective cancer therapies for adults and children. Its fundraising arm is the Jimmy Fund, which is also an official charity of the Boston Red Sox.

"During my time with the Red Sox, I've been to Dana-Farber and seen first-hand how devastating cancer can be for families and patients," added Youkilis. "Rally Against Cancer is an easy and fun way for companies and schools to help the Jimmy Fund strike out cancer."

Historic Mattapoisett Home

Mattapoisett's historic Purrington House, which was recently featured on an episode of HGTV's "If Walls Could Talk," will be open for a Spring Viewing Party on Sunday, May 6 from 4:00 to 5:00 pm for the benefit of the Mattapoisett Historical Society in celebration of the town's 150th anniversary. Please RSVP to purrington@aol.com.

'Garden Lady' in Marion

The Marion Garden Discussion Group is proud to present author, radio host and garden expert, C.L. Fornari, on Tuesday, April 3 at 7:00 pm at the Marion Music Hall, Front Street in Marion. Doors will open at 6:30 pm with jazz pianist Gerald Lemay. A "Spring Boutique" will offer arrangements, plantings, books and many garden related items for sale. Refreshments will be served. Tickets are $5 each and are available at China Trader Antiques, The Bookstall and the Marion General Store. Seating is limited.

Ms. Fornari's topic will be "Myths, Lies and All the Latest Dirt." This down and dirty talk will demystify the folklore and hype surrounding plants, practices and products. C.L. will be doing "hands on" demonstrations and will answer any questions you may have about your own garden.

C.L. Fornari — or C.L. as she would like to be referred — is author of numerous books especially focused on seaside gardening. Her newest book, A Garden Lover's

MOVIE REVIEW

Terror Troops

By Rob Gonsalves
www.robsmovievault.com

The Hills Have Eyes II*. Starring Jessica Stroup and Michael McMillian. Directed by Martin Weisz. Running time: 89 minutes. MPAA rating: R.

Who'd have thought that a quickie sequel to a horror remake would turn out to be the strongest argument against going into the military since the documentary The Ground Truth? Lifelong liberal Wes Craven (who directed the original 1977 Hills Have Eyes) and his son Jonathan wrote the script for The Hills Have Eyes II, and they seem to have approached it as a golden opportunity to warn the teen, mostly male audience away from fighting unwinnable battles in the desert. The result is a nastily effective piece of action-horror, as reflective of its time and its war as the Vietnam-era Deliverance was of its time and war.

For those who think I'm reading too much into a horror film, let me point out that we're introduced to the heroes — a bunch of rookie National Guard troops — while they're negotiating a faux-Kandahar training mission. They screw it up pretty well; their sergeant informs them that if it had been a real mission, they'd all be dead. One soldier, nicknamed Napoleon, dares to remark that the President lies too much, and is told that all presidents lie. So if you sign up to serve, you're going to be sent by liars to kill and die — welcome to the Army, son. This all happens before the movie is ten minutes old.

As noted above, The Hills Have Eyes II isn't as much of a straight horror film as the Craven original or the Alexandre Aja remake from last year. It's more in line with Deliverance, Southern Comfort, Rituals, Aliens — the subgenre of survival horror wherein a motley crew of hardcases unwisely enter a nightmarish terrain whose grotesque inhabitants know the turf lethally well. As such, it's better than recent attempts like Doom and the Resident Evil series — by virtue of not being based on a videogame, in fact, it's the most brutally efficient such entry we've seen in years.

The soldiers are all given one trait to cart around in lieu of characterization, but subtle character development is not what we want from a film like this; we want good guys vs. bad guys, and when the soldiers arrive at the desolate Section 16, the irradiated patch of New Mexico where the previous film unfolded, they're set upon almost immediately by a band of repulsive, inhumanly strong mutants. One by one, the men are torn apart and one of the female soldiers is dragged off to be raped; the movie actually opens with a captured woman giving bloody birth to a mutant child and then summarily smashed to death. If Craven can't get you to worry about being mangled in Iraq, he'll hammer on your fear of a female family member in the service being assaulted.

For what it is, The Hills Have Eyes II is muscledly directed (by Martin Weisz, another foreign horror director delighting in showing us the vicious rot underneath our patriotic veneer), setting up a harsh, dusty, rocky milieu only monsters could survive. Ruthlessly gory at times — it's no wonder this was one of the movies that sparked complaints that the R rating was becoming too permissive — the film has an authentic grindhouse ugliness that can't be faked. For 35 years now, Wes Craven has spoken uncomfortable social/political truths in the language of blood and guts. This grim piece of work, which comes at just the right time to counteract 300's fighting for glory against Persian ogres, proves Craven hasn't yet lost his voice.

Rochester's Voice

When you've covered small-town politics for as long as I have, you naturally find yourself gravitating toward those unique little moments and colorful characters that stick in your mind for some reason.

When I sadly learned about the passing of longtime former Rochester Selectman Harry A. Brown Jr. last week, I couldn't help but recall those early days I spent covering the town's weekly Selectmen's meetings, crammed into the tiny space that is now the Town Administrator's office watching then-Chairman Brown, perched in the corner that Administrative Assistant Veronica Lafreniere now occupies, presiding over the proceedings.

It was during one of these particularly busy meetings that I noticed Harry's typically focused and attentive face glaze over and register a look of both perplexity and bewilderment while listening to fellow Selectman Lorraine Roy Hawkes.

Seconds later, Chairman Brown's hand flew up in a halting gesture and he bellowed loudly: "Hold on a minute!"

Without missing a beat, Harry pulled his hearing aid out, popped it open, exchanged the faulty battery with a brand new one — those who knew Harry Brown shouldn't be at all surprised he carried an extra battery with him — and plugged it back into his ear with a broad grin.

"There, that's better," he said. "I can hear you now."

For years, so many Rochester residents not only heard Harry Brown, but listened to him as well.

Although he was born in Providence, RI in 1918 and later lived for a brief period in New Bedford, 89-year-old Harry A. Brown Jr.'s life really began some 57 years ago ... for that was when he married his lifelong partner, Helena, and that was also when the couple first moved to Rochester — Harry's other great love.

Indeed, just like Harry and Helena, Harry and Rochester were inseparable for many years. Mr. Brown served as Selectman and numerous other elected offices over an impressive 25-year span. He was also a proud and active member of the Benjamin D. Cushing VFW Post 2425 in Marion, for which he held the position of Post Commander twice. Harry was one of the founding members of the Rochester Lions Club, which formed in 1966, and he served as both Charter President for the club and again as President in 1971. Among his many awards and achievements, Mr. Brown received the "Melvin Jones Fellow" from the Lions Clubs International Foundation for dedicated humanitarian services and was awarded a Bronze Star for service during World War II. He also remained devoted and dedicated to veterans' causes throughout his life.

Harry Brown was the quintessential New England Yankee — someone who could be perceived as staunchly conservative in his politics, and yet remain open and receptive to new and different ideas.

Yet Harry never struck me as a politician, per se. He was a regular guy and a gentleman who just happened to be in politics. Like his similarly-devoted contemporary in Mattapoisett, the late John "Jack" DeCosta, Harry Brown wasn't in it for the name recognition or the meager annual stipend that comes along with the Selectman's title, he did it because he truly cared about the town he chose to call home.

I guess the last time I saw Harry was at the town's Annual Christmas Tree Lighting back in December. I went over to say "hello" and shook his hand, identifying myself since I knew his eyes had been failing him.

"I know who it is ... I can't see you, but I recognize your voice," he said, smiling.

That was Harry Brown.

And even though the residents of Rochester won't see him anymore, they'll always recognize his voice.

Since the DFMC's inception in 1989, the runners have raised more than $30 million for the Barr Program. The program was founded in 1987 by Dana-Farber trustees and Jacksonville Jaguars principal owners Wayne and Delores Weaver to honor Mrs. Weaver's mother who lost her battle with cancer 30 years earlier. In 1990, Dana-Farber was among the first charity organizations to be given official marathon numbers by the Boston Athletic Association (BAA). This year, 21 charities benefit from the BAA's charity program. The Dana-Farber Marathon Challenge features training guidance from Jack Fultz, the 1976 Bos-

THE BULLDOG BULLETIN

An Excerpt from the Mirror's Journal: Based on Poem #19

By J.D.D.

Since I am merely a mirror mounted on a bathroom wall, my job is very dull. All day, every day, I reflect faithfully and truthfully what is before me. Thus it has been since the day of my manufacture. Since I have a great deal of time on my hands (that being a figure of speech, I suppose, since I don't really have hands), I spend much of it contemplating my younger days. I can recall, from the depths of my memory, brief glimpses of the factory in which I was made: a huge, brightly-lit room, razor-sharp glass-cutting saws, and other machines I did not recognize.

I lay flat on my back staring up at the ceiling's insulation as I was whisked around the factory floor on conveyor belts, mounted inside a varnished wooden frame, and then wrapped and packaged in a corrugated cardboard box. I had no way of knowing how long I was inside that box, because with no light, I had nothing to reflect. After what must have been at least a month, the box was torn away and I received my first glimpse of what was to become the never-ending subject of my reflecting: pink speckled wallpaper. A man in blue overalls hung me below a hook protruding from one wall, and I began my permanent duty. That was the year 1955. I would have had no way of knowing this fact had it not been that the husband of the house always left his Time magazine besides the sink, right below where I was hung. The date was always printed on the cover.

It was not until the morning following my hanging that I first saw the face that I would reflect most often during my life — that of a girl named Cynthia. As a young girl, she would hop eagerly between myself and the pink wallpaper, jarring me from my morning meditations. She would brush her teeth, wash her face, comb her hair, and then, as if on cue, her mother would call, "Cynthia, time for school."

As Cynthia progressed in her schooling, she learned how to write. I became aware of this fact in a somewhat amusing way. One morning, Cynthia's father had taken a particularly long shower in the bathroom. With all the steam in the air, my vision became blurry. It became so blurry that I could hardly distinguish the muted pink color of the wallpaper.

Suddenly, a shadow appeared in front of me, and a small finger began rubbing away some of the condensation from my surface. Through the marks made by the finger, I could finally distinguish Cynthia's face. Then I began studying the marks. They looked like letters, the same as I had seen on the Time magazines, but they looked backwards to me. Flipping around the individual letters, I was able to make out, "nar tac eht." Cynthia pointed at me and said proudly, "Look, Daddy, I can write!" It was at that same moment that I realized an important truth about myself: I see everything in "mirror-image," what may seem backwards to other people. So Cynthia was able to spell. She had written "the cat ran" on my foggy surface.

Cynthia grew quickly, and each day she looked at me, I reflected her face truthfully — each day one day older than yesterday. Then Cynthia left for many, many years. I was left to meditate on the pink wallpaper, seeing it fade to lighter shades of pink as the years passed. It was only several months ago that Cynthia returned home, this time with a husband and a young daughter of her own. Sometimes I am sorry that I always have been so blatantly truthful, for it seems that Cynthia likes less and less what she sees when she looks at me. The candlelight and the moonlight now give her more consolation that the harsh, white lights mounted beside me in the bathroom. As Cynthia grows older day by day, and the lines in her face deepen, I feel sad; but I am also happy to reflect the carefree young face of Cynthia's daughter, knowing that some day soon, she, like her mother, might draw those strangely-backward letters on my frosted surface.

Be Ready for a Totally Wicked Reading Experience

Book Review by Sarah Stickle

We all know of the ruby red slippers, the Emerald City, and something equally as green: the Wicked Witch of the West. Have you ever wondered why the Wicked Witch was so, well, wicked? Where did she live, who was her family, where did she get that broom? Wicked is exploding at the seams with exciting details about Oz and the people in it such as Ga-linda, little green Elphaba, and talking animals. Be ready, for in Oz not everything is quite as perfect as it seems to be. This is the darker tale of a green little girl who challenges people to think and accept something that's different.

"But the real interest to me is the political slant. If he can isolate some bit of the biological architecture to prove that there isn't any difference, deep down in the invisible pockets of human and animal flesh — that there is no difference between us — or even among us, if you take in animal flesh too, well you see the implications."

While the book is longer than most may expect, author Gregory Maguire keeps you on the edge of your seat with his wonderfully imaginative wordplay, and the surprises that are in store for you on every page.

"Science, my dears, is the systematic dissection of nature to reduce it to working parts that more or less obey the universal laws."

"Well, the family was always bright, and brightness, as you know, decays brilliantly."

With 409 pages that are not afraid to touch on any subject, and certainly not afraid to get you thinking, Wicked is a more than worthy trophy to display on your shelf right between Confessions of An Ugly Stepsister and Grimms' Fairy Tales ... if you can ever put it down.

Sailing Speaker in Marion

The Beverly Yacht Club (BYC) recently announced that it has been selected by US Sailing to host a Mount Gay Rum Speaker Series on Friday, March 30 at the Marion Music Hall featuring Gary Jobson.

US Sailing's Mount Gay Rum Speaker Series was first created in 2005 as a grassroots, educational series delivering high quality seminars to sailors nationwide. The series has proven to be very successful in its first two years with more than 4,000 sailors attending 30 events. Last year event hosted by the Beverly Yacht Club featured Dave Perry and was a sell-out.

Gary Jobson will speak on racing tactics. The question many sailors have is how to gain an edge on the

Haruki Murakami Books 'Vanish' Off Shelves

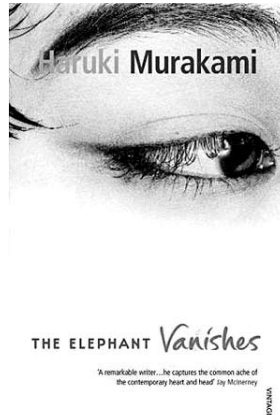

Book Review by Claire Koss

As I walked into my local bookstore, I headed for the fiction department to pick up yet another Haruki Murakami title only to find the short story collection The Elephant Vanishes had vanished! But not mysteriously; they had sold all of their copies. Eventually I did land my hands on a copy, and plowed away.

My first experience with Murakami was when a friend lent me Norwegian Wood. I found Murakami's neurotic, dark, witty, clipped sentence-style really intriguing, so I was excited to read a collection of his short stories. This 327-page book with a total of fifteen short stories wasn't as much a page turner as Norwegian Wood, but I was entertained. Most of these stories had appeared in magazines and newspapers like The New Yorker prior to the publication of the book. These urban stories are often exaggerated and surreal, such as an elephant vanishing into thin air, love letters to perfect strangers, hunger causing a couple to hold up a McDonald's, and sleepless nights.

One of the most memorable of his stories, titled "On Seeing the 100% Girl One Beautiful April Morning," is about a very self-aware male narrator passing by a girl whom he claims to be his 'perfect match.' He tried to think of something to say to her, but all he comes up with is a long speech in his head that would have started, "Once upon a time," and ended in "A sad story don't you think?" This leads him to discuss the story he would have told her:

*The boy said to the girl, "Let's test ourselves — just once
If we really are each other's 100% perfect lovers, then sometime, somewhere, we will meet again without fail.
And when that happens, and we know that we are the 100% perfect ones, we'll marry then and there.*

The two agree on this test and part ways. Time went by, as with their memories. He ends the story with:

One beautiful April morning, in search of a cup of coffee to start the day, the boy was walking east to west. They passed each other in the very center of the street. The faintest gleam of their lost memories glimmered for the briefest moment in their hearts. They knew they were 100% perfect for each other. But the glow of their memories was far too weak, and their thoughts no longer had the clarity of 14 years earlier. Without a word, they passed each other, disappearing into the crowd. Forever.

A sad story don't you think?

Yes, that's what I should have said to her.

I wouldn't really say the book has a specific message, but it's more or less a pleasurable reading experience. Many themes of the book include lapses in communication, missing and longing, chance encounters with strangers, drifting souls, the everyday routine and breaking it, and the gamble of life.

After reading a few books from Asian authors, I found the styles similar in that all were very surreal, and most ended abruptly and bluntly. This collection of short stories is only recommended if you are aware and can appreciate this unique style of writing. The Elephant Vanishes by Haruki Murakami is a great book to cuddle up to on a cold, dreary day.

A Twine of Heath and Dust

A Poem by Holly Severance

Within the withered wood of a house warped with age,
Sits a sill scoured by my scratched script.
All is dead but the glow of a candle and the hand that turns my diary page by page.
By the bedside, a bough breaks Sweet Silence with a rhythm reminiscent of song I once sung upon the moors.
Life and Death become one separation.
Of one another, we have no sensation.

My breath belongs to the chill of the freshly fallen snow, delicately extinguishing the light so his dark, piercing eyes can no longer peruse the painful memories of the past.
His uneasy slumber prevails; he awakens only by the phantasmal presence of my lips upon his cheek.

Oh Heathcliff! I am the air you breathe,
I am all the sites you see,
I am the flesh, blood, and bone,
My hair the weeping willows,
I am your own.

Clearly, his eyes must be mistaken,
How could he have seen those rich ringlets under the moonlight?
Surely, he caught a side-glance of an owl while it was in mid-flight.
Yet from all the sleepless nights, it has become hard for him to ascertain Between fantasy and Reality's pain.

I am the mirror of Hareton's eyes,
The whispering winds,
My tears the drops from the darkening skies.
I am the parasite eating a hole in your heart
My soul that other half of which you are compromised.

He digs, delving deeper into my grave,
Slides the cover off, carefully climbing in to caress my cold corpse.
Yet he can hardly harness feelings of warmth in his hardened heart
For in order to be with me, from his own life he must depart.

I am you, Heathcliff,
Your ashes, your lust.
I am your Catherine,
Into a cold world, I was thrust.
Two souls intertwined are we.
Togetherness in death is our only destiny.

race course. Over many years Gary Jobson has fine tuned a strategic system for gaining an edge on the competition. This intense racing tactics seminar begins with the prestart and works around the race course to the finish. Participants will improve their scores using this system.

Gary Jobson, is a world class sailor, television commentator and author based in Annapolis, Maryland. He has won many championships in one design classes, the America's Cup with Ted Turner in 1977, the infamous Fastnet Race and many of the world's ocean races. In college he was an All American sailor three times and was twice named College Sailor of the Year (1972, 1973).

In October 2003 Gary was inducted into the America's Cup Hall of Fame by the Herreshoff Marine Museum. In 1999 Gary won the Nathanael G. Herreshoff Trophy, US Sailing's most prestigious award. This trophy is awarded annually to an individual who has made an outstanding contribution to the sport of sailing in the United States. Gary has been ESPN's sailing commentator since 1985. In 1988 Gary won an Emmy for his coverage of yachting at the Olympic Games in South Korea. He has authored 15 sailing books and is Editor at Large of Sailing World and Cruising World magazines.

"The Speaker Series program is a tremendous way for The Beverly Yacht Club to deliver world class sailboat racing seminars to all the sailors in the Buzzards Bay area", said Larry Hall, Race Committee Chairman at the BYC. "Having an America's cup sailor like Gary

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Put your restlessness to good use by indulging the Arian love of exploring new places and seeking new challenges. There also could be a new romance waiting to be "discovered."

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) A surprise message from someone in your past could lead to a long-awaited reunion with a once-close friend. Also, look for a workplace problem to be resolved in your favor.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Your self-confidence is rising, and that should be a significant factor in helping you adjust to a new social situation, as well as adjusting to a series of changes in the workplace.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Turnabout could be lots of fun when someone who previously accepted your tender, loving care without question now suggests that he or she wants to start taking care of you.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Put the lessons you learned from past disappointments to work in planning your future. The way ahead opens to opportunities "purrfectly" suited to the adventurous Lion.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) This is a good time to renew contacts with family members and/or old friends who somehow slipped off your personal viewing screen in recent years. Travel is also favored.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Most problems surrounding that recent personal situation have been resolved, and that means you should move on to other things that are important to you.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Spend this weekend recharging your physical and spiritual energies. When you return to your workaday world, you'll be ready to take on that new project.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Be careful how you advise a troubled friend. Even your wise counsel could be misunderstood. Better to suggest that he or she seek professional help.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Family problems once again dominate and, once again, everyone seeks your guidance in these matters. Later, you can indulge in some much-needed relaxation.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Some mixed signals create confusion in the workplace. Best advice: Ask for explanations before you attempt to deal with any of these matters on your own.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) A patch of roiling water in the workplace could be threatening, but stay the course and you'll soon be clear of it. Then go out and have a great time with loved ones.

BORN THIS WEEK: Your extraordinary leadership qualities mark you as someone people can turn to for guidance in difficult situations.

with the American Library Association (ALA) and Jazz at Lincoln Center (JALC). The project is supported by a major grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH).

"Looking At: Jazz" explores the cultural and social history of jazz as it developed as an art form in the United States. The first program focusing on New Orleans and the Origins of Jazz will be held on Friday, March 30 at 7:00 pm. This program will be held at the Mattapoisett Council on Aging (COA) located at Center School, 17 Barstow Street. For details or to register, please call the Mattapoisett Library at 508-758-4171.

This program allows community members to acquire in-depth information from award winning documentaries. A public library is the perfect backdrop for this discussion because we can offer a full selection of resources for further study of any of these topics.

Additional films in the series will be shown at the Rotch-Jones-Duff House, 396 County Street, New Bedford. These films are "Benny Goodman: Adventures in the Kingdom of Swing," "Lady Day: The Many Faces of Billy Holiday" and "Celebrating Bird: The Triumph of Charlie Parker." These programs are scheduled for April 15, April 22 and April 29 at 3:00 pm. An additional program will be held at the Mattapoisett Library on Friday, April 13 at 7:00 pm.

The Mattapoisett Free Public Library is open Monday through Friday from 3:30 to 8:30 pm and Sat-

I found the Aardvark!

Each week we will give away an Aardvark Gift and each month we give away a special Aardvark Gift Basket to one lucky person. All you have to do to enter is find the Aardvark! The little guy you are looking for looks exactly like the one pictured above (but don't put down this page as your answer, there's another one hidden somewhere in this issue).

The winner will be selected from all the correct answers picked by the deadline and the prize will have to be picked up at our office. Only one entry per household per issue please.

To enter, simply find the aardvark in this issue, then go to our web page and select the link "I Found the Aardvark" entry page. If you would like to enter by mail, send your name, address and phone number along with the issue date and page number you found him in to: Wanderer - I Found the Aardvark, P.O. Box 102, Mattapoisset, MA 02739.

Deadline for each week is 5pm on the Tuesday after the date of publication. All entries must be dated or postmarked on or before that Wednesday.

Winner, past location and prizes listed on our website at:
www.wanderer.com - Click on "I Found the Aardvark"
In the March 22 issue the Aardvark was hiding on Page 27!
